Soar & Share

I've been enrolled in Metro U for 19 months and counting. I have amassed 3,815 points. If you can't tell, I like the competitive part of Metro U x Wildsparq. There have been several months where I used the lessons learned from that month's module IMMEDIATELY. From leading a meeting to difficult conversations to clear communications. The applications of these lessons are endless. We were designed and engineered to constantly grow and learn. We were also designed and engineered to constantly be tested and stretched. The moment that we think that we have learned and mastered it all is a dangerous crossroads.

From time to time, I look back through the notes that I have taken over the last 19 months. I highlighted a quote from one of our first Wildsparq lessons; "You know you are on the way to success if it is uphill all the way." That one stuck with me. On the days that I feel challenged, I know that I am growing. Growth is good. I hope that you all will continue to climb this hill with me. It's a great view and it's only getting better.

Leaders ready!
